ANSWER THE SCRATCH

The Story of Answer the Scratch

In January of 2004, Coach Koetter created the Sun Devil Football Leadership Council. This elite task force was comprised of 25 players representing all classes and all positions. One of the leadership council's tasks was to create a mission statement, a phrase or set of words that best describe what this era of Sun Devil Football will stand for. Most college football teams currently have a mission statement, however in most cases the teams mission statement is conceived and created by the head coach or the coaching staff. Coach Koetter's approach is to challenge the way things are typically done, and look for different and more compelling ways to do things. Our mission statement is different in many respects, but most importantly it came from the hearts of our players. What they came up with is not the typical conglomeration of clichés and overused success phrases.

Our mission statement is "ANSWER THE SCRATCH."

In Old England, in far less civilized times, groups of people would organize dog fights for determining the characteristics of dogs for breeding purposes. A dog that would quit in a fight was no longer kept for breeding. One type of dog that commonly was used in these fights was a Bull Terrier. The fight was held in a pit, usually a 16 by 16 square. These were matches common to a boxing match; there was a referee, a handler for each dog and a timekeeper. In the pit there was a scratch line drawn diagonally from one neutral corner of the pit to the other. For a new round to start a dog must cross that line to answer the scratch. A dog that would continue to answer the scratch in spite of broken bones, torn muscles, dehydration and exhaustion was considered to have gameness or heart. Gameness is a canine virtue that is most akin to the human virtue of tenacious courage. It is determination to master any situation and never back down out of fear. That indeterminable will, the ability to continue to be relentless in adverse conditions was something that was recognized as a trait that could not be taught and was valued highly by the breeders.

For practical purposes we have used a small degree of poetic license in paraphrasing Answer the Scratch as our mission statement. Our definition implies that ANSWER THE SCRATCH means RELENTLESS DETERMINATION IN THE PASSIONATE PURSUIT OF EXCELLENCE. The values that our leadership group chose to recognize as their own that serve to support our mission statement are: PREPARATION, SACRIFICE, AND FIGHT ADVERSITY.

Our aim is for excellence in the classroom, in the community and on the field and in the pursuit of all of our endeavors we will answer the scratch.
